Reckless Expenditures in Transport Service Between San Francisco and Philippines.

EXCESSIVE PRICES WERE PAID.

Cost of Material Strikingly Higher Than Current Market Prices -Painting Supervisor Ignorant of Paints.

Washington, April & Secretary Root today sent an answer to the House resolution adopted on March 15 calling on him for as to the conduct of the transport service between San Francisco and the Philippine Islands. The answer includes the reports Inspector General Chamberlain and Lieutenant-Colonel Maus.

The reports of the various officers, inby Secretary Root, cover several hundred pages Major General B. M. Young, in transmitting the report of Lieutenant Colonel Chamberlain, submits an analysis of the report showing no adequate supervision to any feature of the fitting out of transports, for a long time after the service was inaugurated, and later the efforts to referm the service. service was inaugurated, and later the ef-forts to reform the system. General Young specifies lack of securing competitive bids. He says: Inexperienced Employes.

"In the case of the 'Hancock' (before the board was organized), involving an expenditure approximating if not amounting to half a million dollars, the matter of in-dicating needed repairs was put into the hands of officials unknown to transpor hands of officials unknown to transport regulations, under verbal orders and plenary power given by the homorable Secretary of War, to insure more sanitary arrangements on that transport." General Young also specifies the case of an "inexperienced man who knew nothing about paints, being employed to supervise painting, in a business where the picting bill of a single firm in two years and two months amounted to $343,074." In other respects, it is stated, the report shows that work was given out and supplies for general use (such as the fitting up of cabins) were purchased without due regard, habitually, to the protection of the Government's interests. On that branch of the investigation covering cost of articles, etc., General Young, summing up the Chamberlain report, save that in one case, where the bill was $106,318, the work is pronounced "generally unsatisfactory; charges excessive and material inferior."

POLICE ARE INVESTIGATING. Trying to Find Who Shot at William Maddern.

Detectives Shevlin and Williams are investigating the mysterious assault on Wil-liam Maddern, leader of the Century Theaer Orchestra, in the alley at the side of the Century Theater Monday midnight. Maddern was just leaving the theater by the side entrance to the stage when he was fired upon by some person. The builet passed through the crown of his hat, but did no further damage. Maddern did not see the man who shot nor does he know whence the shot came.

The Stag faces Locust street, The theory of the detectives is that the assailant was on the top of a low building in the rear of the saloon, and, after firing the shot, jumped down on a sand pile, in which footprints were found.

Maddern has no idea who fired the shot. He says a few days ago he received an anonymous letter from some person pertaining to trouble he had with the Musicians Union.

TWO YOUNG MEN SHOT BY A POLICEMAN.

One Killed, the Other Desperately Wounded-Refused to Halt and Offered Resistance.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL. Boonville, Mo., April 8.-Louis Sage and Mike A. Logan were shot here about 2:30 o'clock this morning by Policeman Albert S. Beha. The former died instantly and the latter is badly wounded. Both came in from the North on the blind baggage of the Katy Flyer, and alighted just above the depot. Officer Beha, who was on duty at that hour, commanded them to halt, when Sage drew commanded them to nat, when Sage drew a pistol and Logan attempted to follow suit. Quickly Beha drew his pistol and fired twice, one shot piercing Sage's heart and the other taking effect in Logan's left side. The latter is still alive, and some hope is entertained for his recovery. To Coroner B. L. Evans this morning he stated that R. L. Evans this morning he stated that he was raised near Salem. Dent County, and that his father now lives at Short Bend, that county. During the last year he Bend, that county. During the last year he says both he and Sage have been employed in a car factory at St. Charles, Mo. He knows very little about Sage, other than he had a brother at Lebanon, Mo. State Association Wants Laws Allowing Larger Commission. The Association of County Collectors of Missouri held its first annual meeting yeselecting officers planned to push a movement for legislation making the terms of collectors four years instead of two, as

J. L. Tuttle of Hillsboro, Jefferson County, presided. The secretary was W. B. Markell of Palmyra, Marion County. These men were made permanent officers at the outset, and committees were named as follows: Rules and Order of Business, R. A. Wilson, Jasper County; E. B. McClure, Pettis County, and R. A. Young, Oregon County. Credentials, E. Estell, Perry County; W. B. Markell, Marion County, and G. E. Walterz, Atchison County, and G. E. Walterz, Atchison County was elected vice-president and H. W. Marrenbrock of St. Louis County treasurer.

The rest of the session was devoted to a discussion of the difficulties collectors meet under present conditions. It was argued that the commissions are not sufficient to justify enthusiasm in the collection of back taxes, because the legal expenses swallow up the fees. Differences of opinion and practices growing out of the enforcement of the collection of the State revenues are numerous from the standpoint of convenience and public service, so the delegates maintained, and a legislative committee was suggested as the best way of presenting recommendations to the next Legislative.

TO RENEW CRUSADE AGAINST WINEROOMS

Secretary Barclay of Anti-Saloon League Preparing to Swear Out Warrants.

War is to be made on the saloons of St Louis which have winercoms attached. E-E. Barclay, secretary of the Anti-Salcon League, called at the Four Courts yesterday to discuss the situation with Chief of Police Kiely. The chief promised the support of the Police Department in the crusade, and they talked over the matter at length. It was decided after some discussion to pro-ceed under the State isw, and the Chief referred Mr. Barclay to Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Johnson.

Colonel Johnson said he would issue the warrants as fast as the proper evidence was brought to him. Mr. Barciay then told him the police would make cases immediately against saloons which are provided with winerooms and musical instruments, and requested that he draw up a form of information. Mr. Barclay stated that he would apply air. Barelay stated that he would apply for warrants against the proprietors of the Waldorf, Tannhauser, Ohio, Morgan Club, Home Cafe, Deck's, "The Broken Heart" and Standard Theater saloons, charging them with having musical instruments. He stated he has from two to seven witnesses against each place.

LITIGATION OVER COURTHOUSE. People of Coles County and Two Towns Interested in the Suit.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL. Charleston, Ill., April &-In the Coles County Circuit Court before Judge Van Sel-

Charleston, III., April 8.—In the Coles County Circuit Court before Judge Van Sellar of Paris, III., acting as special Judge, a fight for $152,000, involving the indebtedness incurred by the purchase of material for and the construction of the Coles County Courthouse, began this afternoon. This magnificent three-story structure was erected in 1898, is valued at $150,000, and up to the present time it has not cost the tax-payers of Coles County or the citizens of Charleston one cent.

From the date of construction to the present time the temple of justice has stood at the expense of Ohio and Indiana capitalists and the sundry contractors in various Illinois towns, and these people have joined issues in what promises to be one of the most bitter legal battles fought in the annals of Coles County.

The Courthouse tangle is the direct result of a long bitter fight between the towns of Charleston and Mattoon, the latter place having made several attempts to have the county seat changed to that town. Hostility increased, it is claimed, when Charleston secured the Eastern Illinois State Normal School, which had been carefully planned, politically, for Mattoon. At one time Mattoon offered to build a Courthouse free of cost to the county, provided the capital of the county be changed to the town free of cost to the county, provided the cap-ital of the county be changed to the town on the Illinois Central Railroad.

NO INSPECTION IN SMALL FACTORIES

Judge Zimmermann Says the Law Doesn't Apply Where Less Than Five Persons Are Employed.

According to the interpretation of the factory inspection law by Judge Zimmerman of the South St. Louis Police Court, manufacturing establishments, where less than five persons are employed, are not within the provisions of the factory inspection law, and owners cannot be compelled to allow them to be inspected. Judge Zimmermann yesterday dismi a case against Jacob Roessel, charged with resisting an officer in refusing to allow

John H. Becker, a deputy city factory in-spector, to inspect his bakery. The Judge stated that the factory in-spection law defines a factory as premises where five or more persons are employed the fee of 11. When the city inspector called, he refused to allow him to inspect the place. Judge Zimmermann held that as Roessel's bakery did not come under the law, the officer had no right to inspect it and that Roessel was not guilty of resisting the officer in refusing to permit the inspection to be made.

FRETWELL SHOCK EXONERATED

Grand Jury Returned Ignored Bill in the Ledger Case. Fretwell Shock, 12 years old, will not be resecuted for the killing of William Ledger on the night of February 14. The February Grand Jury returned an ignored bill in and in which steam, water or other mechanical power is used in aid of a manufacturing process. The evidence showed that Roessel had only one employe.

Roessel's place had been inspected by the State Factory Inspector and he had paid the fee of $1. When the city inspector Hodiamont gang," a rival organisation of Hodiamont gang," a rival organization of youngsters. A struggle followed, in which shock fired a pistol, which mortally wounded Ledger.

Shock said a boy attacked him and he fired in self-defense. The shot went wild and struck Ledger, who also was in the crowd. The Grand Jury considered the ages of the boys and the circumstances, and decided best to let the case pass.

How to have a good wing.

Hunters invariably withhold meat from their flogs, feeding them upon dry bread cornmeal and similar foods. When asked the reason for confining hunting dogs to such a diet, an experienced huntsman replied: "Meat spoils their wind and blunts their keen scent." Dr. Baeltx, a German physician, practicing in Japan, observed the same thing with reference to Japanese runners. The coolies who carried him lived on rice and beans. He gave them beefsteak. After three days they refused it, declaring it made them tired. The best of all muscle-feeding foods is Toasted Wheat Flakes, sweetened with Mait Honey, made by Battle Creek Sanitarium Food Company. Each crisp delicately browned flake represents a flattened wheat grain thoroughly dextrinized through cooking and toasting. It contains all the muscle-building qualities, is appetizing and immediately digestible.

NEW YORK TO CUT SALARIES. Reduction May Save City as Much ая $600,000.

New York, April 8.-It was announced today that at an executive session of the Board of Estimate of Greater New York yesterday, a resolution was unanimously adopted to cut the city salary list 10 per cert cent.

This is exclusive of the uniformed men of the Police and Fire departments and the school teachers. Those receiving very small salaries and veterans of the Civil War are not to be affected by the proposed cut. Estimates made by men familiar with city affairs place the amount of reduction all the way from $250,000 to $600,000.
